What would you do if...?

¹Would you be (you / be) prepared if there was an emergency on your plane?

Think about the last time you flew. Did you pay attention to the safety demonstration? If ² you hadn't gone (you / not go) to sleep, you would have heard the flight attendant explain the location of the emergency exits. This information is vital. If there had been a fire, ³ you would have had (you / have) only about 90 seconds to get off the plane.

It's unlikely that there will be an emergency on your flight, but if there is, the most important thing is to be ready.

Would you know what to do if ⁴ you got lost (you / get lost) in the mountains?

The number one survival tip is to stop walking and wait to be rescued. In research done in Canada, however, only two out of 800 lost people actually did this. If ⁵ the others hadn't kept (the others / not keep) walking, rescue services would have found them much more quickly. If they had waited in an open space,

⁶ a helicopter would have seen (a helicopter / see) them immediately.

The most important thing when you go hiking is to tell someone where you are going, so that you can be rescued if anything goes wrong.

What ⁷ would you do (you / do) if you heard somebody in your house in the middle of the night?

Imagine you woke up and there was someone in the kitchen. The worst thing you could do is confront the intruder because he might have a weapon.

Instead you should lock yourself and your family inside a bedroom or the bathroom and call the police. Of course, this would be impossible if ⁸ you didn't have (you / not have) your mobile phone with you. So you should always keep your phone fully charged by the side of your bed.
